

Mat Kaplan

Senior Director of Technology and Development, CSULB- CCPE

Mat Kaplan has served the College of Continuing and Professional Education at CSULB for more than twenty-five years. As Senior Director of Technology and Development, he has oversight of the college's Information Technology department and the Advanced Media Production Center, while also coordinating the college's fundraising activity. The Long Beach resident represents CCPE to many community and technology groups. Mat also produces and hosts "Planetary Radio," a weekly radio series and podcast about space exploration that can be heard on Sirius XM satellite radio and 150 public stations throughout North America and beyond.